The School of Communication Studies, PU must establish and strengthen its campus placement office or program. Moreover, there is a need to reorient and review the syllabus as per the current needs of industry and profession. We should start our blog and promote on the lines of London School of Economics (LSEs) Media and Communication Blog, known as Polis.

I feel, strong alumni association to be formed and invited let's say atleast once in 3 years. Also, corporate companies to be targeted as per market requirements placement cell can do a lot better and more focus on practical experience.

They all are fraud please change teachers

Infrastructure needs to be updated

No

More practical knowledge should be imparted

I think there is great scope for SCS to support students with Corporate placements.
